Whether you enjoy fishing, small game hunting, or simply wish to pursue a more self-sufficient lifestyle, a spear sling is a great tool to have. While made popular by the sport of spearfishing, spear slings are also great tools for hunting and survival. Survival Spear Slings is a guide on making and using homemade spear-slings.

Build four different types of spear sling and two different spears from found and inexpensive materials. Step by step instruction and full-color photographs make building your own slings simple and easy. Also included are suggestions and tips on making your own designs to suit your needs.

With a little preparation and using simple techniques, expedient spears and slings can be built outdoors and in survival situations. Spear slings offer a challenge for the experienced outdoorsman and hunter, yet also offer an introduction to hunting and fishing for the novice.
