MeMe, the heroine in this lighthearted series of life challenges, finds herself in the clink after a bad and threatening relationship. While under lock and key, she comes face to face with a jail house mirror and has a startling awakening that leads her to a new level of self-awareness and a life of freedom. MeMe's journey expresses what many people may be experiencing in tumultuous relationships and in this true story, she takes full responsibility for her life and the choices she made that contributed to her hardship and led her to a place nobody wants to be - prison. Yikes! Told with riveting honesty, this narrative is a page turner that will have your eyeballs popping and in expectancy to know what happened next. Master facilitator and trainer Millicent St. Claire helps heal old wounds using simple language and illustrations to address life's many challenges. Using herself as a shining example of the ridiculous, she helps others to break free from the bondage of shame. She says, "The one who tells the truth gets free, but no one said it would be pretty." This is a beautiful, transformational faith based story of redemption that is a must read.
