The chimps of Mt. Asserik Stella Margaret Brewer

Stella Brewer was the pioneer of chimpanzee rehabilitation and the founder of the Chimpanzee Rehabilitation Trust (CRT). Rehabilitation is a lengthy process during which young orphan chimpanzees are provided with the physical and mental support necessary for them to thrive when reintroduced into a suitable natural environment. Stella was also a very early subscriber to the 'holistic' approach to wildlife conservation whereby the people living in the vicinity must benefit from the conservation effort if it is to be fully supported at the local level and so have a chance to be sustainable.
